Sarah, Lily, Yayu, Dolly, and Sarah (members of our ministry team) at a CCO retreat

In the past quarter of ministry on AU's campus, God has used spiritual mentorship, hospitality, and outreach to continue to minister to students.

Our community of Chinese and FPC friends had the bittersweet pleasure of supporting Lily as she left Ashland and moved to Towson University to earn a master's degree in Computer Science. Since moving, Lily has been keeping in contact with friends and her church family. She is currently searching for a church and asking great questions as she faces that challenge. She is enjoying her program and classes and has joined a Bible study at a nearby Chinese Church. If you would like to reach out to Lily by sending her a letter, please let me know, and I will share her address with you, privately! Please pray for her as she continues to settle into her new environment and finds a church to plant her roots.

I have continued to have the opportunity to mentor young women on a one-on-one basis. One of those students is Maddie, and at the beginning of this semester she came to me with an exciting story that I would like to share. One day, shortly after returning from winter break, a Korean student knocked on Maddie's door. She was seeking friendship. Maddie shared with me that when she opened the door, she felt a flurry of mixed and

2018 Fall and 2019 Spring Semester

As the CCO campus pastor, I worked for half a year already in this position. I really enjoyed this campus ministry with CCO staffs, FPC, different churches friends, and Ashland communities. A lot of people are involved in this campus ministry and helped us in so many different ways.

In this period, we created some big events such as the Chinese moon festival, international pot luck dinner, Thanksgiving dinner, Christmas trip with Chinese students, New Year's fellowship dinner, and the Chinese New Year's celebration party. Throughout these events, we helped the international students and Ashland communities to learn the culture differences from each other, help them to understand each other more, and build friendship to share God's love and care for each other.

We continue to have the Bible Study, spiritual mentor, hospitality with the international students so that we may guide them to grow their spiritual lives in Jesus Christ.

Campus Report

One of the big programs in this past fall, is launching a new ministry called the "Chinese Lunches," every Tuesday at AU lower chapel. With 20 to 35 students attending each Tuesday from 11am to 12:30pm, it has become a great way to reach out to the Chinese students and other members of Ashland community that wouldn't usually know the international students.

Yayu translated for Pastor Dick Winfield at our Saturday night service

Each Tuesday, we have the Chinese lunch with conversation and fellowship together. CCO campus staffs, church members, and community's friends sit at the same tables with the students and are able to build relationships with them. The students have realized that they have help and support from the church and community, they learn about God's love and care through actual experience; they also learn more about the English language.

Please join us in praying that God can use this ministry to touch many of the students' lives and that we can have wisdom to maximize our outreach to those who attend.

Building the Leadership Team

Our campus ministry and the Chinses Church ministry have been focusing at building a strong leadership team, to help spread God's word, his love and teach the Gospel. I have been praying to God to bring in people who are interested in Campus ministry and helping International students. Several members showed interest in leadership, I set up meetings with them, shared my vision and plans to help campus ministry and church services, I delegated activities to help accomplish our plans, I got commitment from them to lead the Saturday church worship, and campus ministry events including the Chinese lunch on Tuesday and Bible studies. At our last event, The Chinese New Year, I noticed how well they led the various activity resulting in a smooth progress of the event, they exhibited great team work, and everyone helped making it a great success. I personally thank Alisa for being “The Rolling Pin of God,” she mentioned to me that Mother Teresa said that her accomplishments was due to her being “the pen of God,” it is God directing her work and love to the poor and needy people of this world. Alisa made beautiful dumplings, and she said that God helped her roll that dough, it was rolled with God’s love for the International students table to share in God’s abundance.

A Touching Testimony from Campus

Yoyo is a student in the master program at Ashland University studying for the MBA. She was invited to attend our Saturday Church service and bible study. She showed interest in learning more about God and his word. Last year she attended CCO jubilee conference in Pittsburg, after which her life transformed by God, and she asked to be baptized. I led her through the process of baptismal and got her ready to fulfill all the requirement to be a Christian. Her spiritual life kept growing and she was baptized last spring.

She has been growing in her faith, and we trained her to be a church leader. We invited her to CCO student leadership retreat “Imago” from 31 August to 1 September, she said “I experienced an amazing retreat.” She learned how to be an effective student leader to spread the Gospel. She mentioned that she is the reflection of the Lord in the world. She quoted Jesus saying, “Whatever I do, you can do too and even greater things.” Jesus said precisely, “you are sent into the world just as I was sent into the world—to heal, to cure, to love.” Now she is involved in several ministries, and always willing to serve. Last Saturday; for the first time, she translated the church service.

Associated Charities Food Bank

The special emphasis for March donations to the Food Bank will be components of complete meals. Suggestions include spaghetti and sauce, macaroni and cheese, soup and crackers, and the like. Collection boxes remain in the narthex and in the hallway near the chapel. As always, your check(s) made out to Associated Charities Food Bank are very helpful and will be delivered there. (Please place in marked envelope in a collection box.)

Community Appreciation Sunday—March 24

Repeating last year's enthusiastically received distribution of homemade cookies is scheduled for Sunday, March 24, following worship. How can you help? Please bring to the church before 3:00pm on Friday, March 22, small homemade cookies. These will be plated on Saturday, labeled, and available after worship for delivery to the police and fire departments, hospital, nursing homes, etc., to express our appreciation for the vital contributions of these organizations and individuals who serve our community.

Loud Sunday—March 31

Shake your pockets and empty your purses of all that change, then bring it to worship on March 31 where the recipient of Loud Sunday offering will be the Chinese Church ministry. With Dr. Dolly Dong as leader, the Ashland Chinese congregation has been worshipping in Andrews Chapel since July 7, 2018, with occasionally others preaching and usually Jenny Beasley leading worship each week. We all are invited and encouraged to enjoy this fellowship on Saturdays, beginning with 5:00pm potluck dinner in Fellowship Hall, followed by 6:00pm worship. You will meet students from Ashland University, as well as local members of the Chinese community.

Compassion Sunday - May 5

Several members of our church family are sponsoring children in developing countries around the world. Sponsorships provide these children with opportunities to learn about Jesus as they experience better educational opportunities through community centers that also supply meals and basic necessities.

Corresponding with children we sponsor helps us learn about their lives, but also lets us share our faith, give them encouragement and pray for them. Watch for an opportunity to become a sponsor when new packets will be available, providing profiles of children awaiting sponsors.

"Better is one day in your house than thousands elsewhere." As I sat down in the pew on February 3rd, 7 weeks after surgery, I began to cry tears of joy. It was so good to be back. Kinda felt like a warm snuggly blanket of love. Thank you so very much for your kindness as I have been recovering from double knee replacement. The prayer shawl arrived at just the right moment. Your cards, visits, meals, and phone calls have been such a blessing. Thank you so much.

Parish Associate

Greetings Friends in Christ. It is a joy to serve you as Parish Associate and to be part the FPC ministry team. I serve you in the name of Jesus Christ. It is a joy to work with Pastor Mike as he leads and directs us together. It is a blessing to be involved in the pastoral care ministry with Josiah. I do visitation to shut-ins and also bring home communion. It is a joy to participate in the Chinese Church ministry with Dolly, Jenny, Sarah, and Lana.

Wonderful things in ministry are happening at FPC. I am excited for the Companions on the Journey Sharing Group which has begun to meet. We will continue to meet monthly through May. It is a wonderful time of fellowship and sharing. We have lunch together with songs and Scripture. It is geared toward seniors but all are welcome. We meet in fellowship hall 11:30 am to 1 pm on Tuesdays once a month. The next monthly meeting dates are February 26, March 19, April 30, and May 21. Hope to see you there. Much blessing to you in Christ. Please contact me if I can help you in any way.

In Christ's love and grace,
Jody Watson, Parrish Associate

Lent at FPC

From Pastor Mike

THEME: Cultivating Our Contentment

INVITATION: Perhaps you are one who "gives up" something for Lent. I would like to also invite you to "take up" something this Lenten season - a spirit of contentment. We will likely find that in order to embrace a spirit of contentment, we must also let go of those things that are causing us to feel discontent.

WHAT: Sunday morning messages that relate to the theme; Wednesday evening times of fellowship, reflection, and prayer that help us Cultivate Our Contentment in a practical way.

WHY: It is the Lord's desire that we could find contentment in our relationship with Him. How many of us truly experience this in our day to day lives. This message is counter-cultural, and we are constantly invited to find contentment in any and every other place. The Apostle Paul wrote that he had learned to be content in every situation. Is that an invitation for us, or simply a "pipe dream." I believe the former and pray that through the season of Lent we move together in this direction; a place of deep contentment in our communion with the Triune God.

Lenten Potlucks
Beginning Wednesday, March 6

Each Wednesday during Lent, FPC will have a gathering at the church from 5:30—7:00pm. We will have a potluck and fellowship from 5:30—6:00pm followed by times of fellowship, reflection, and prayer that help us Cultivate Our Contentment.

For Ash Wednesday, worship will follow the potluck, 6:00pm in Fellowship Hall.

Associated Charities

A word from the Director:

Dear church community,
Thank you for making the last 10 years at Associated Charities a joy to go to work each day. It has been a journey from God that I have had the privilege to sit in this seat. My hope is that you will welcome the new director as you did me and continue to support this ever important ministry to help those people in need in our community. She will do a great job taking this organization into the future!
God Bless, Rosemarie Donley

One Great Hour of Sharing

"You Shall Be Called Repairers of the Breach"

Isaiah 58

Special Offering

One Great Hour of Sharing is the church saying, "We'll be there when you need us." For 70 years, generations of Presbyterians have joined with millions of other Christians through this offering to share God's love with people experiencing need. Your gifts support ministries of disaster response, refugee assistance and resettlement, food for the hungry, and community development that helps people find safe refuge, start new lives, and work together to strengthen their families and communities.

In the coming weeks during Lent, watch for bulletin inserts to provide additional details of ways in which OGHS funds are used. Pew envelopes will be available for contributions to be collected during the regular offering. Credit card donations can be made online at presbyterianmission.org/give-oghs, or text OGHS 20222 to give $10.

Mighty and merciful God, in Jesus Christ you opened the doors to us. Make us a church whose doors open so that we go out to join in mission and ministry with all our neighbors in need. Through the gifts we offer to One Great Hour of Sharing, may your light break forth before us, and may we be called repairers of the breach, restorers of streets to live in. (Isaiah 58)

challenging emotions inside of her heart. She found herself wrestling with hesitation. Still, Maddie invited Yeji into her room, and they spent an hour talking about school, boyfriends, and roommates. Since then, Maddie and Yeji have developed a friendship and meet weekly for lunch.

There is so much to celebrate in this story. This year, I've had the opportunity to walk alongside Maddie as she explores her own personality, spiritual strengths, and gifts. This new friendship opened the door for her to step out of her comfort zone and into one of her great strengths --showing hospitality. It is an expression of the cross-cultural ministry that God has been making a way for over the last year, and we can celebrate that this ministry is making its way into the hearts of students. In fact, Maddie expressed that her knowledge of the CCO's ministry to international students gave her strength to step into a relationship with Yeji. Let's praise God for this, and pray that He would use their friendship mightily in both Maddie and Yeji's life. May we continue to extend hospitality to others and may the Lord use it as a testimony of His heart for people.

As we look forward into March, April, and May, new friendships and fostering community is something that I want to continue to step into with students. In the first semester, a theme became clear: students are desiring to be a part of an authentic community. They are looking for spaces in which they can be cared for, care for others, and be encouraged. This includes students who have committed their lives to Jesus, and those who don't know him. This has shaped my vision for the rest of the year. My efforts will be channeled toward community building.

Out of this heart and vision, in January, I began meeting with a small group of Chinese students every Wednesday night for Christian yoga on campus and cooking dinner together. Helen, Rachel, and Maggie aren't Christians, so will you pray with me that God would be present with us as we continue to gather together for the rest of the semester? I pray that He will make a way for miracles and salvation, whether now or in the years to come. If you would ever like to join us for dinner, (or yoga, too!), please let me know.

We would love to host you and welcome you into our family!

In addition, this February, I will begin meeting with Maddie, Yeji, Taylor, and Kendra in hopes of cultivating a community where these women can grow in faith and in fellowship together. We will meet together weekly and talk about weaving different spiritual rhythms into our daily lives. As we practice these disciplines together, we hope that friendships will form and opportunities to do outreach will arise. Each young woman has expressed the desire to experience connection with others in a meaningful way, and I ask that you would pray for us as we begin this journey together.

Finally, I will begin coming to FPC every Thursday morning to spend time in prayer for the church, campus, and anything else that the Holy Spirit might bring. I would love to have you join me in prayer or join me to be prayed for. It is my desire to grow in learning to discern the Spirit's voice while praying, and I would be honored to have you join me on this journey. I will be in Andrew's chapel each Thursday morning from 10:30am-12:00pm, starting February 21st. Please let me know if you have any questions by emailing me at sbardall@ccojubilee.org or calling/texting me at 740-202-0656.
